

CORPS

COLORADO RESEARCHERS
OF PARANORMAL SCIENCE

MEMBER BYLAWS

1. During investigations, members are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner. This includes professionalism to home and business owners at all times.
2. No alcohol is permitted before or during an investigation. No CORPS member is permitted to use any form of illegal drugs at any time. If alcohol or drug use is suspected, that member will be immediately and permanently dismissed from CORPS.
3. No perfumes, colognes or other fragrances should be worn during an investigation, as this can interfere with other investigators' senses.
4. During an investigation, members will respect the property of our host/client. It is each individual's responsibility to replace or repair any item they damage on an investigation.
5. CORPS prohibits all members from doing freelance investigations as a CORPS representative. All investigative leads that are generated shall be shared with the group and planning for these investigations will be decided by all group core members.
6. No children under the age of 18 years are permitted at investigations or to be involved in research with CORPS. CORPS tries to schedule investigations around our member's personal needs; however we may not be able to accommodate all investigations for each and every member. Thus, it is your responsibility to ensure that you have proper childcare arrangements so you can attend investigations.
7. No CORPS member is permitted to bring guests to an investigation unless there is prior approval from the core members. If a guest is permitted to attend, they will also be expected to comply with our bylaws. If they do not agree to do so, they will not be permitted to attend.
8. During an investigation, there will be no smoking inside the location, no horseplay and no profanity. Voices should be kept at a conversational level. If you must smoke, please return to your car or a designated area to do so.
9. Any member who does not attend meetings regularly without a valid excuse will be placed on probation. If attendance does not improve, the member will be dismissed.
10. Members who are absent from pre-investigation briefings will not be permitted to participate in that investigation.
11. CORPS members shall keep all client information and locations confidential, unless the client has signed a release form. No exceptions.
12. No CORPS member shall contact any media source concerning an investigation, client information, event or group information unless it is approved by the core members of the group. This is done to protect the rights, privacy and reputation of CORPS and its clients.
13. All members are required to help do field research and generate leads for investigations.
14. Each member will be required to follow pre-investigation, investigation, and post-investigation procedures.
15. All evidence collected as a result of CORPS investigations becomes property of the group. Any former member that requests the use of any evidence collected during their membership period must first obtain permission from the core group members.
16. CORPS Paranormal Investigations conducts investigations only. At no time shall any member of the team attempt to remove entities from a location, or make any claim that the team will attempt to do so.

By signing below, you agree to abide by these bylaws as a member of CORPS.
